TASMAC liquor sales shop in Mandaveli closed

By Madhan Kumar, Baskar Seshadri

The TASMAC liquor vending shop on V. K. Road, Mandaveli has been closed for good; it was done on May13 evening.

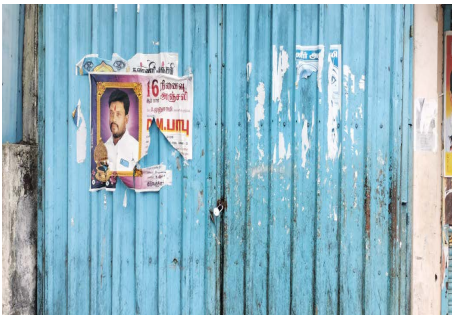

This follows the state's decision to close over 700 such shops which were located at spaces close to hospitals/schools/ temples.

As regular clients walked up late that evening, they were told to retrace their steps by local men.

Mylaporeans had run a long-drawn campaign asking the state to shut this shop; since it was located off a temporary, narrow pathway linking two busy roads, off the barricaded Chennai Metro work zone, women and children faced many uneasy moments here.

Women had even staged protests here.

Some R. A. Puram residents said that TASMAC's 'Elite' liquor sales shop in the ares must also be shut - they say crowding takes place in the evenings and some people consume liquor in the open.

New office of Mylapore MLA being readied in Alwarpet

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Two days after the Mylapore MLA is sworn in as a state minister I get a call.

It is from a young tech person. He recalls he shared some cartoons for the newspaper in his earlier years. I expect more creative stuff to come up. It isn't.

The man wants me to introduce him to the MLA. Because he is in a jam. He manages animation studios and the bills for one big project undertaken for the education sector for the state, funded by the centre, have not been settled for a long time.

I tell the young man I do not entertain such requests.

Later that day, a neighbourhood activist requests for the phone number of the MLA. I have to tell him that the man is yet to put out an official contact that people can use.

Lots of people want to connect with the new MLA. I can sense they have a few issues that they want fixed. They want a Mr. Fix-It. As I said before, these are issues that local councillors have to address, not an MLA.

What is needed from Mylaporeans who care, is to draw a road map, make a list and then sit with the MLA on a common platform. First, give him the floor to outline his plans over the next three / six/ 12 months. Debate those, get some firm commitments and then debate issues raised by leaders of the community.

But I sense that many want to get their local issues fixed first.

The unhealthy side of community activism is the small-world outlook of even those who have the potential to do good across the board. We have observed some people don the activist cap, cannibalise issues people raise, present it as their own, act as community spokespeople and ingratiate themselves in the inner circle of an MLA, and the rest.

A new MLA needs firm, well-outlined ideas and plans that a constituency requires. This must come from well-informed citizens. To do this, citizens must educate themselves on legislative and governance issues. People are hardly aware of how the city council functions, roles councillors are called to play and their functions at the area and zonal level. The same applies to the legislature and our man there.

Shift TASMAC shop in Mandaveli

■ Shift the TASMAC shop from V. K. Road. Residents are finding it difficult to come out of their houses located around it, unable to park their vehicles. The place near Police CID quarters is an open bar and toilet.

- Shrimathi M.

■ During 2016, former Mylapore MLA, R. Nataraj closed TASMAC shops - near MRTS stations and in R. A. Puram - these were bold steps he took. Expecting the same from the new MLA.

- A. Girija

■ Mandaveli liquor shop is a nuisance to the public.

Shift it to a remote place where it does not affect the public.

Things to do - for new MLA

Things for the new MLA to do - 1. finish the Chennai Metro work. Revisit the Metro rail and existing MRTS projects, review - to ensure cost savings and reduction in road diversions. 2. Lay proper platforms - ensure no vendors occupy them. 3. Clean the Mada Streets and ensure vendors don't occupy them.

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times 1996 onwards. This week, we focus on November 1996.

Bhakthavatsalam centenary year: Interesting stories from Sarojini Varadappan (Nov. 23, 1996)

Sarojini Varadappan reminisced about her father, the late M. Bhakthavatsalam (former chief minister) on the occasion of his centenary celebrations. Describing him as shy, unassuming and reserved. She said that he had a tendency to break his bones. Once, when he got discharged from a special room in General Hospital, Rajaji got admitted soon after. She said that Indira Gandhi held him in great regard and narrated an interesting anecdote. Once, Bhakthavatsalam was designated to accompany Indira Gandhi on a tour and translate her speech.

However, on learning he had a bad cough, she would not let him handle the translation. Sarojini said that her father, a P S High School alumnus, did not want his children in politics. On two occasions, when her name came up for a ticket to the Rajya Sabha, he recommended other seniors, Sarojini said. He remained alert and had a sharp memory right up to his end, she added.

Mylapore Arts Academy hosts art festival (Nov. 30, 1996)

The 31-year-old Mylapore Arts Academy is hosting an arts festival at the R R Sabha from November 25 to December 3. A. L. Vadivelu, the managing director of Mercantile Credit Corporation Ltd., inaugurated the event. Dr. Nalli Kuppaswamy Chetty lit the kuthuvilakku. The academy's vice president, K. S. Bhakthavatsalam, welcomed the gathering. Carnatic vocalist Sudha Raghunathan, who just returned from an overseas tour, was felicitated at the festival. Later in the evening, she gave a concert. A. N. Srinivasa Rao, the president of the academy, proposed the vote of thanks. The honorary treasurer, V. Srinivasan, said the academy's aim was to protect, preserve and promote fine arts and give quality programmes to all.

Suriya Garments in Luz is 'Best Decorated Shop' for Deepavali (Nov. 23, 1996)

Suriya Garments in Luz was adjudged the Best Decorated Shop during the Diwali season in the Mylapore Times-sponsored contest.

Zaheer Hussain is the proprietor of the shop. R A Puram's Mishti Sweets, whose managing partner is Karuna Ganguly, was chosen as second best. Sundaram Sons, owned by S. Bhaskaran, won the third prize. Sundaram Sons is located on R K Mutt Road. Deepam, Tulsil Silks, Rex Fashions and Onida Arcade featured in the list of consolation prize winners.

The tailor who will not stitch new clothes (Nov. 23, 1996)

By S. Janaky

This excerpt is from 'Mylapore Nooks' column. The newspaper featured a tailor who, as a matter of policy, will not stitch new clothes. N. Das, the proprietor of Restitch on R H Road, specialises in restitching, altering and darning. Whether it's a pair of jeans, an ill-fitting jacket or a three-piece suit, Das and his team will address your need. While the restitching and altering services are exclusive to menswear, the darning service is available for women's clothes too. Das recommends that customers visit the shop between 4.30 pm and 8.30 pm, when he can personally attend to them. He hails from a family of tailors. His father, G. N. Rao, runs a shop in Luz. Das opened Restitch in 1989.

NAGESWARA RAO PARK

A park lover's anguish

By Supraja Srinivasan

Over the past few months, I have witnessed multiple trees being cut or destabilized due to the extensive trenching and clearing. Just yesterday, a tree fell and was disposed of, and another collapsed this morning. Despite assurances from the contractor that no trees are being cut, I have personally observed several smaller trees removed, and many others now stand unstable because of the digging.

Large concrete surfaces are being laid, which have already shown signs of waterlogging after brief rains recently. The current design will only exacerbate flooding and prevent groundwater recharge. I was told granite paths are planned under a massive new structure, which will likely become dangerously slippery during rains.

The project has already been delayed by months and is nowhere near completion. This is not just a matter of aesthetics—it is about the long-term sustainability of our neighbourhood environment. It has been a complete mess since August 2024 when the contractor started laying storm water drains. I hope there is some accountability for its progress.

I urge the authorities and the community to take note of this issue before irreversible damage is done. Nageswara Park is a vital green lung for Mylapore, and it deserves careful, eco-sensitive restoration rather than indiscriminate concretization.

- Supraja Srinivasan is a resident of Luz Avenue

Obituary

Dr. Meena Muthiah, a distinguished educationist passed away on May 2 in Ooty. She was 92.

A note from the family said she ‘dedicated her life to nurturing institutions and empowering generations of students’.

She lived in Burma in her early years and moved back to India as Word Ward II closed in that zone.

She got married to M A M Muthiah Chettiar at an early age and moved into Chettinad House in R. A. Puram. After convent schooling, she studied at Queen Mary’s College, Mylapore, completing her post-grad here.

She lost her husband early and was encouraged by Mrs. Y. G. Parthasarathy of the PSBB group, another leader in school education, to start a school.

Best known for being the founder of Chettinad Vidyashram school in MRC Nagar which went on to become a leading institution in the city, Meena Muthiah was also involved in many other family-run institutions and education projects and social causes. She was correspondent of Rani Meyyammai Girls’ Higher Secondary School, R A Puram and of Kumararani Dr. Meena Muthiah College of Arts and Science.

To generations of students and their wards, teachers and campus staff, she was fondly, ‘Meena Auntie’.

She was active on campus till recently.

Meena Muthiah promoted crafts of the state (she was a scholar of Tanjore painting) and supported many social causes and headed many city institutions like Voluntary Health Services and International Red Cross.
