Voters stood in a queue well before 7 a.m. on April 23 at this polling centre on St. Mary's Road in the Mylapore constituency. It gave them time to take a second look at the list of candidates and their symbols. Tamil Nadu went to the polls on Thursday to elect people to the state Assembly.

Expect some slapstick, middle-class humour in most plays - going by the first play by Mappilai Ganesh's Tamil play - Yamini En Kanmani

- presented on April 22 by Satya Sai Creations and Ezhichur Aravindan. Directors of the plays admit that people want to laugh and enjoy some clean fun. Though some take liberties of taking pot-shots at current politics too, and some are tight and engaging.

There are 12 plays and all will be new ones, as is the tradition of this festival. S. Anand's Theatrix Stage Crafters is the only one who features for the first time in this fest. The regulars are featured in the line up - from Theatre Marina and Dummies Drama to Legally Yours and PMG Mayurapriya. The dramas are free, open to all.

Rasikas can review the plays and submit their entries and the best ones get prizes. Seats fill up fast so get in by 6.45 pm for seats in the front rows. Daily at 7 p.m.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

For the first time, in the 32 year history of the Mylapore Times, a client placed a Thank You advert. Thanking the newspaper, and the family which bought the property advertised, a nice apartment in the heart of Mylapore.

Our front desk staff was perplexed. 'I want to place the Thanks advert so that readers and others know the value of the newspaper,' the client convinced them.

Our Classifieds cannot guarantee success. But they do create some magic. And there are many untold stories our team gets to hear of that magic.

A year ago, as I left our office after work, a man followed me and got my attention. He pulled out his purse, opened it and said, "If there is money here, it is because of your newspaper," he said. He was one of the dozens of real estate and rental intermediaries who advertise in the newspaper. Some of them have been with us for a decade and more.

Recently, when I was going around the GCC park near Lazarus Church in R. A. Puram, a man left his group, spotted me and introduced me to the rest. These were neighbourhood residents who also deal with real estate and rentals and often place Classifieds in Mylapore Times.

Since the first issue in 1994, Mylapore Times has valued Classifieds. Quickly, people saw the value of local advertising. People across the city pour into these pages to locate their needs (they can do so online - check out our E-paper, after 8 am, Saturdays). We have people zipping in from Nandanam and from Royapettah, to pick up the weekly at our gate in Alwarpet as early as 5.30 a.m. on a Saturday, just to scan the Classifieds. The best deals are done in less than two hours.

Designing the Classifieds page is a challenge. Our team - of designer Prema and colleagues, Shanthi and Neela and Ad Rep Kathir work hard to accomplish this on time.

Tell us how we can improve these pages. Share your experience if our magic has worked for you. My friend, veteran sports writer Partab Ramchand often reminds me how a Classified in our weekly helped him sell his Lloyds Road apartment years ago. He paid Rs.300 for the advert.

Woes of walkers on Marina service road

Children, men and women and elderly citizens used to go on morning walks in Marina beach regularly for ages. Due to Metro rail work on the beach, the pathway for walking has shrunk.

The pathway is restricted to walkers near the LightHouse end of the service road - there is an overhanging barricade and a No Entry board for two/ four wheelers.

But daily, our educated young citizens disobey the No Entry rule and pose problems for walkers like us. It is harrowing on weekends when the bikers are big in number. Police are not on duty in the early hours. We need one police constable with a lathi posted here to regulate wayward citizens from 4.30 am to 7 a.m. Only then will seniors and walkers be able to exercise as they have done for years..

Voting was smooth, quick

The voting process at Kesari High School was smooth and well organized. We reached the place by 8:45 a.m., and there was only a small queue. My husband and I were able to cast our votes quickly and were out by 9:00 a.m. Grateful for an efficient experience and happy to have exercised our right to vote.

- Sneha Ram Narayan

Why were all food shops asked to close on poll day?

Am just asking this question out of curiosity; why were all restaurants and tea shops asked to close in toto on polling day?

The places which make and serve basic food could have been allowed to do business - there were many bachelors, small families and travellers who suffered because all shops were asked to shut down.

- Manikandan S.

Form 12D did not reach elders here

Form 12 D for enabling elderly voters to vote from home were distributed to various apartments some time back and collected. No such distribution seems to have been done in our apartment in Kesavaperumalpuram on Greenways Road. Same was the case in the previous election. I do not know whether such exercise was undertaken in localities such as Bishop Garden, R A Puram, Abhiramapuram etc.

On dog poop

Anti-social elements defaced CIT Colony community awareness posters with slogans on the dog poop clean up.

Pasted on top of our poster was this line - asking pet owner's to clean up after their dog poop on the street is harassment.

It is not fair to expect the GCC / Urbaser staff to clear up the dog faeces everyday.

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times, 1996 onwards. This week, we focus on October 1996.

Rotary to desilt Virupaksheeswarar temple tank (Oct. 26, 1996)

Rotary Club of Madras has taken up the task of desilting the tank that belongs to the Sri Visalakshi Virupaksheeswarar temple. "We've estimated the cost to be around Rs.3.5 lakh," said Venkatraman, the secretary of the temple Trust.

The plan includes building ten chambers, which will increase water content in the tank and help prevent waterlogging in the areas around. It will also help recharge all the wells in the area. Bazaar Lane, Thalayari Street, P. V. Koil and Sannidhi Street will enjoy the benefits of this exercise. Percolation pits are being laid, with the top soil being removed.

There is also a filter that will stop the impurities from entering the tank, which will be cleaned once in six months.

Sanskrit Society to celebrate Kalidasa jayanthi (Oct.19, 1996)

The Sanskrit Education Society has planned some activities to celebrate Kalidasa jayanthi, to be held on October 26 at 98/99, Luz Church Road. C. Sudha and artistes will present a musical rendition of Nandi Slokas and a song in Sanskrit.

Lectures in English planned include "The subtle nuances in Kalidasa's works" by A. V. Rajagopalan, "Ideal king as depicted by Kalidasa" by Dr. R. Ramachandran and "Purposeful description of nature in Kalidasa" by P. S. Ramamurthy. Nirmala Sundarajan will read select verses from Kalidasa's works.

Grand fire display at San Thome School's sports meet (Oct.5, 1996)

DGP Rajasekharan Nair handing over a trophy

SANPSO '96 was the annual sports day meet of San Thome Higher Secondary School and Montfort Prep School.

It was held at the school's grounds. Torch Tattoo, a fire display by students held for the first time here, was the big show.

Dir. Genl. of Police, TN, K. K. Rajasekharan Nair declared the event open and distributed the prizes to the winners and champions.

Madras Eye is back; expert shares dos and dont's (Oct.5, 1996)

Conjunctivitis, or Madras Eye, which assumes epidemic proportions, is back this season. Ophthalmic surgeon Dr. R. Chandrasekhar, who runs a clinic on R. K. Mutt Road and also consults at leading hospitals, shared this - infection gets transmitted through the air or by touching items being used by Madras Eye patients. With antibiotic drops and an eye ointment, depending on the intensity, a patient can recover in two or three days. Self-medication is a definite no - it can make the infection worse.

Talent test in economics - for school children (October 19, 1996)

The Institute of Economic Education plans to conduct a talent test for students in Classes XI and XII of both state and central Boards. The idea is to get the students to learn concepts in economics intensively and thoroughly. Cash prizes of Rs. 1000, Rs. 750 and Rs. 500 for the top three students will be given for XI as well as XII standard students.

Rs.2 crores seized from residence of DMK man in Mandavelipakkam

By Our Edit Team

Over Rs.2 crores in cash was seized by a flying squad of election-duty officials at a house in Mandavelipakkam, said to be that of Sathyamurthy, a senior office bearer of the DMK party, on April 22 morning.

Tamil TV channels reported this throughout the day but one TV channel junked this particular report.

Wads of currency notes, mostly Rs.500 notes were found stacked and bundled on a dining table and in a bedroom, it is reported. The money was handed over to the IT department.

Sathyamurthy is reported to have told the inspecting team that the money was intended for business purposes. He is said to be part of DMK candidate, Dha Velu's party unit.

POLLING DATE NOTES

WOW HELP FOR SENIORS. TRANSPORT.

We called for and used the free transport facility to voting booths available for senior citizens provided by Election Commission. We called – the person at the other end – Sheba was very courteous. As promised, a van (equipped with wheelchairs) came to our residence in Alwarpet and took us to the booth. The van came with two aides, Prakash and Vijay Kumar, apart from the driver Arun to help us board the vehicle.

The voting procedure was a breeze.

– By Raji Muthukrishnan

YOUTHS MAN PARTIES' DESKS

We spotted many young men and women involved in 'poll duty today. Some were party card-holders, but some seemed to be friends. The young manned party counters which helped voters get voter slips or affirmation of the venue of polling. Obviously, the young dominated the stalls of TVK party, but some didn't seem serious.

Near the Hamilton Bridge junction, in a thick residential zone of small houses and huts, were many counters.

A young woman, with two others who manned a AIADMK counter, teased two other youths who were around the TVK counter.

"Put your vote for Vijay," she said.

"But she is sitting with AIADMK people," we countered, lightly.

"We have TVK people elsewhere too," the man said lightly.

HELP FOR SENIORS

Sabari provided his services specially to escort seniors to polling booths. He was seen helping senior citizens in R.A.Puram 1st Main Road - to the booths at Kumararajah Muthiah School.

– By Dr. R. Chandrasekaran

WERE PHONE DROP-BAGS USEFUL?

At some booths, there was one large canvas based drop bag with many slots to store phones : meant for voters who had to leave behind phones banned inside booths. Not many used this facility : some said phones could be 'lifted'.

SEARCH FOR TIFFIN

Since all restaurants and tea shops were to remain closed till 4 pm: the odd ones which were open were crowded

HELPFUL VOLUNTEERS

Her name is Akshaya; she is a volunteer for Corporation of Chennai: she was seen collecting the mobiles from the voters for safe keeping at Venkataramana Primary School on Dr Ranga Road. Mobiles are not allowed in booths.

BUSY BOOTHS

The areas off Karaneeswarar Pagoda Street and those off the Canal and behind CitiCentre were abuzz this morning. There were polling centres at four places along one road totalling about 8/10 booths - this being a thickly populated area.

The classrooms were stuffy. Signage was limited. There were no indicators in the campus and so people walked from one end to the other. The odd volunteer was jaded by noon.

Police presence was also high: patrols kept moving around. For many young men and women it was a holiday out - dressed in their Sunday best, the men zooming around in their fancy bikes. And neighbours catching up with local gossip.

– By Vincent D' Souza

THE BLO GROUP IN SARIS CODE

A group of women posted at a school hall in a school owned by the church on Lazarus Church Road caught our attention. Mostly teachers and San Thome / Mylapore residents, they doubled up as as BLOs: block level officers.

They have been busy throughout the year. All the women were in saris of one design. We first assumed they were SHG members. No, one PT teacher in the group said. "We were paid well recently by ECI and we decided to buy common saris for all of us."

FOLLOW THE COLOUR CODES TO YOUR BOOTH

Each booth in places where there were more than one booth are given a colour code and a wide marking made on the ground led you to that booth – you had to check your booth number to choose the pathway.

Mahratta Education Fund hosted Chaitra gowri puja at its premises on TTK Road, Alwarpet. The significance of this event is this – Gowri(the goddess) is considered as a daughter who is in the family way and is visiting her mother for a month. The puja is for her; devotees offer her tender coconut, lime juice and different delicacies.

Parayanam at temple

Sunada Sruti is a group of 20 women based in Mylapore zone, well trained in chanting a few Vedic mantras, mainly from Krishna Yajur Vedam, having learnt the mantras by rote. The group does Veda Parayanam, selecting relevant mantras, in temples, hospitals and educational institutions.

On April 14, Tamil new year day, the group did parayanam of Narayana upanishad, Purusha suktam Narayana suktam Vishnu suktam Lagunyasam Namakam Sikshavalli and Chaturvedam at Sri Ayyappa Temple in MRC Nagar for some 90 minutes in the evening.

Benne Dosa, quick

By Baskar Seshadri

In the midst of daily processions of Sri Kapali Temple's Panguni festival and the stream of people who packed into the mada streets, Nithya Amirtham Thuritham restaurant was launched recently by the chain's proprietor, Parthiban. On North Mada Street, metres away from the existing Nithya Amirtham restaurant.

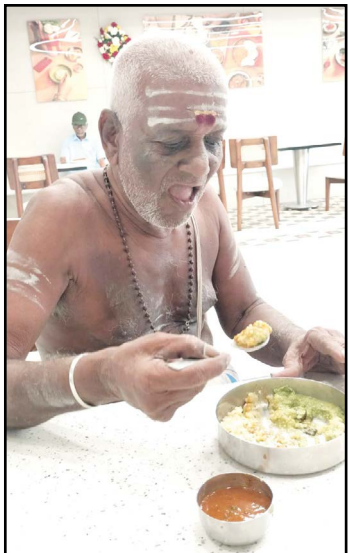

The smartly-designed space has a 'thinnai' concept to seat about 20 people.

The menu, as at all Thuritham series of this group, leans towards Udupi food - from Benne Dosa and Thatte Idli to filter coffee (Rs.35). The Benne Dosa is already the favourite here. Mini meals are served at lunch time (Rs.105 plus tax). Sweets and snacks are on sale.

This is a self-service space, encouraging diners to place an order and dine in less than 10 minutes. Thuritham, on both sides of the counter.

Opens at 7 a.m. and closes by 10 p.m.
